Award of the Open Rank Research Grant from the Yale Center for Faith and Culture, 2017 Yale Divinity School, Funded by the John Templeton Foundation in the amount of $25,000.00. This grant was used to examine the plight of Korean comfort girls- women who were forced into sexual slavery by the Imperial Japanese Army during World War II and to investigate the work of activists and scholars for the justice of Korean comfort women. I traveled to Maryland, California, Florida, Japan and S Korea to gather relevant resources and interview activists and scholars to illustrate how they helped turn the shame of Korean comfort girls into joy. My research findings will be incorporated into a book and several articles.
