

Digital Humanities presents

VICTORIA SZABO

Victoria Szabo is a Research Professor of Art, Art History & Visual Studies and graduate faculty in the Computational Media, Arts & Cultures program at Duke University. She directs the Digital Humanities Initiative at the John Hope Franklin Humanities Institute and leads the Information Science + Studies center and lab. She also serves as Chair of the ACM SIGGRAPH Digital Arts Community.

The Humanities in 3D: Interdisciplinary Approaches to Digital Knowledge

Complex, multidimensional forms of digital humanities scholarship require expertise from diverse fields. This session explores interdisciplinary, project-based approaches to teaching, research, and exhibition, highlighting the recent ACM SIGGRAPH 'Digital Power: Activism, Advocacy and the Influence of Women Online' exhibition, as well as examples from the work of the international Visualizing Cities collaboration.

Wednesday, November 11th, 6pm

To register for the lecture: <https://bit.ly/2TN6F2S>
Link will be sent upon registration

Sponsored by a Mellon Foundation Grant